They're—contraction of they are.
Their—possessive pronoun.
There—can introduce a sentence.
They're—contraction of they are.
There—can mean a place.
They're—contraction of they are.
There are no keys.
They have two scopes.
They are coming now.
Their papers are neat.
They have too much hair.
We have too many chairs now.
I want to go with you.
To is used in other cases.
To means also.
Two means the number 2.
We have two telescopes.
Using To, Two. You.